I have a friend at work that is hurting after the loss of his father. After getting to know him I am very confident he does not know the Lord as his personal savior. Please send him a bible and tell him that there are people around him that don't want him to hurt anymore.

I have a favorite verse that I would like included. Please add any verse that would allow him to find direct wisdom from God's word.

PS. I would rather him not know it is coming from me.

Hi,

My brother and I have not been on talking terms for years, and my sister called me and said he was diagnosed with cancer, and I want him to know Jesus and find peace, love, and forgiveness. He won't answer my phone calls and I don't have the words to say even if he did answer. Please send him a bible with scriptures that will not only save his soul, but ease his burden's and put them on Jesus.

His address is

I feel if my name is mentioned he will not give God's Word a chance.

Thank you for all you do!

I feel helpless, my niece went off to college and started hanging out with the wrong crowd. She told my sister that she call's crying feeling out of control. My sister does not know what to say to help her. She is so far away, it seems impossible to guide her. Could you send a bible with some scriptures that has the truth about her new friends and how she can get back on course?

My sister would like you to include "Mom" at the end.

This would be a true blessing.
